The number one threat to the European Jews is their European appearance because they entered the land claiming to be the Israelite and they worry if more and more people begin to notice how the Ashkenazi really look European and nothing like the people of the region, then doubt will be cast on their right to remain in Palestine. So worried and so scared they are about issue that they have hired thousands of dark-skinned soldiers (probably they were hired from South America) and they get dispatched anytime they have a high-profile case and none of their white soldiers are present during those times. The pictures below are here to demonstrate that unlike the claim by the European Jews that they resemble the Palestinians and they do not, in fact, they do resemble the Germans.
